Dear Colleague,

It appears that you have yet to rsvp to my invitation for the conference/festschrift here on October 21 and 22. Perhaps your computer system has over vigilant antispam/virus software and my e-note did not reach you. Please access your confidential page our on the festshrift website, and record whether you not you can join us.

The scientific program includes Affleck, DeRujula, Foster, Okun, Ramsey, Strait, Weinberg, Witten, and Wolfenstein, with Fitch, Friedman, Halperin, Lederman, Steinberger, Ting, Wilczek, Zweig and many others in attendance. You may want to look at the program and at the list of attendees to date on our website

<http://physics.bu.edu/festschrift/>

The cutoff date for blocked hotel rooms is tomorrow. If possible, you should reserve now directly with them. The festschrift shares the weekend with the world famous Head of the Charles Regatta and hence hotel rooms are scarce.

In planning your travel, you should know that the Sulak's are hosting out-of-town guests at their home Friday evening for dinner and Sunday morning for brunch.

To rsvp and to consider the blocked hotels, please access your personal (confidential) web registration page.

John Barrett, assistant to the theory group here, is available to help organize your visit. If you have other questions, please contact him directly at jbarrett@buphy.bu.edu or at 617 353 6069. He is available by phone Monday 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. ET and Tuesday to Thursday from 9 a.m. to noon.

Hoping very much to see you soon in Boston,

Shelly
